Executive Director, Jo's Day Care Academy, Milwaukee, WI

"Common Worth helped change the way my teachers looked at themselves as teachers. Lilly Irvin-Vitela has the ability to take the most difficult challenges in your business and break them down in a simple form to make things relatable and obtainable for your staff.

She has a very special way of giving your staff the confidence they need to conquer the day-to-day challenges in childcare. Jo's Day Care Academy has worked with Common Worth on several training projects including helping my company with the Young Star process.

I would highly recommend Common Worth to any agency, that is looking to build staff confidence and address your organizational needs."
